Forty years ago, Beefy put on his trainers and began what would become one of many charity walks to raise vital funds and awareness for Blood Cancer. After 35 days of walking, a total of 990 miles completed, raising over £1million - which built the Glasgow Research Center, Beefy arrived in Land's End. Now with 18 Charity walks completed, four continents covered and over £20 million raised, Beefy has hung up his trainers!

Come and celebrate this special year with Beefy at Foxhills Golf Club where we will be raising money for Beefy's Charity Foundation by doing a bit of walking, but also hitting golf balls!

Post golf you will find out more about Beefy's Charity Foundation from some of his friends who have supported him over the years including Sam Torrence, eight-times Ryder Cup player and winning Ryder Cup captain in 2002. Mark Butcher, England Cricketer and Sky Sports Commentator and David Gower, team mate of Beefy and Commentator and many more.

Foxhills is one of Surrey's premier golf courses, the Bernhard Hunt Course is beautifully tree lined with stunning views from the elevated tee's. A delightful course that tests golfers of all abilities, come and join us for this fabulous day of fundraising, golf and exceptional entertainment.
